Oregon Officials Dead

GOVERNOR SNELL

WRECKAGE OF PLANE, BODIES OF GOVERNOR, THREE OTHERS FOUND

REMOVAL OF HIGHEST STATE OFFICIALS IS BEGUN BY SEARCHERS

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Oct. 30.—(P)—Bodies of Oregon's Gov. Earl Snell, the secretary of state, senate president and their pilot were taken from the wreckage of their plane today.

State Patrolman Mark Sullivan told state police here the bodies

ARMY PLANE MISSING

MARION FIELD, Calif., Oct. 30.—(P)—A plane wreckage was sighted today in the mountains west of here, the Army Public Information Office announced. Ground parties were dispatched to determine whether it was an A-26 attack bomber missing last night, with five men aboard.

probably would reach the Klamath Lakeview highway at Ely, 50 miles northeast of here later this afternoon.

The bodies of Snell, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., Senate President Marshall Cornett and their pilot, Cliff Hogue of Klamath Falls, were reached shortly before 9 a. m. today after nearly 100 searchers had stumbled through the rugged, heavily forested area at Dog Lake, 70 miles east of here.

TYPHOON HAMPERING ATTEMPTS TO SAVE 27 OR MORE ON SHIP

MANILA, Oct. 30.—(P)—Tower-ling seas whipped by the winds of a typhoon frustrated attempts today to rescue 28 crewmen and one or more passengers from the stricken motorship FS277, in distress in Butuan Bay in the Mindanao Sea.

The FS262 reported this afternoon that the 270-ton inter-island freighter was "in a sinking condition very close off shore." Ahead of the distressed vessel lay the rocky cliffs of Mont Tubay, northern Mindanao.

The FS262 said it had been forced to give up rescue attempts and seek shelter because of the violent seas.

The Philippines weather bureau reported all communications with its stations on the island of Samar, Leyte and Masbate were out. The Philippine airlines radio operator at Tacloban, Leyte, went off the air with the final report that heavy waves whipped by 120-mile winds were "doing the airfield." Airplane operators at the town of Masbate, on Masbate Island, directly in the path of the oncoming typhoon, reported winds of 100 to 120 miles swept the island.

Five Bandits Take $110,000 Payroll In Boston Robbery

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Five masked bandits held up a factory office today and took a $110,000 payroll.

The men, two of them armed with sawed-off shotguns, walked into the offices of the Sturtevant Division of Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Hyde Park only 15 minutes after an armored truck delivered the money in small bills. When some of the office workers indicated they thought it a prank, one of the robbers shouted menacingly: "This is no Halloween party."

Dressed in Overalls. They escaped in a large sedan in which a sixth member of the gang waited at the wheel.

Dressed in overalls, the men entered the plant grounds unnoticed among workmen arriving for the day.

One of the bandits wore a gunnysack over his head, two had

Ball Club Owners To Discuss Fight

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(P)—President William Harridge of the American league today called a special meeting of the club owners to be held at Cleveland tomorrow to consider the suspension of Leslie O'Connor, general manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Harridge said O'Connor would attend the meeting to explain and exhibit his entire correspondence with Chandler over the situation.

Neither Commissioner Chandler nor Walter Mulberry, secretary of Baseball, could be reached for comment in Cincinnati.

AYALA FOUND GUILTY AND PENALTY SET AT 3 YEARS IN PRISON

FARMER IS TRIED IN CONNECTION WITH FATAL SHOOTING OF VYERS

John Ayala, Emhouse tenant farmer, was found guilty of murder without malice and was assessed three years in the penitentiary by the jury in its verdict returned to A. F. Mays, district judge, shortly before noon Thursday.

He was tried in connection with the fatal shooting of Robert Vyders, also of Emhouse, July 22, this year, at a house located on the farm on which Ayala and his large family resided.

Doye Pevehouse, defense attorney, stated Thursday afternoon a motion for a new trial would be filed in behalf of Ayala within the required two days period.

Ayala entered a plea of innocence when arraigned Wednesday morning.

Testimony Concluded Wednesday. Testimony was concluded Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The charge of the court was presented at the beginning of the night session and the arguments of attorneys, one and one-half hours to the side, were given Wednesday night.

State's attorneys to argue the case were Doye Pevehouse, special prosecutor; Charles T. Banister, county attorney, and J. C. Roe, special prosecutor and former county attorney. Defense attorneys to speak included Matt Dawson, Doyle Pevehouse and Tom L. Tyson.

Resumed Deliberations. The jury came into the court Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and reported to Judge Mays that it was unable to agree on a verdict. Judge Mays ordered the jury to return to its rooms and resume deliberations.

Wednesday Afternoon. Evidence was concluded at 3 p. m. Wednesday, when the defense rested, and five minutes later the state also announced it was resting. Judge Mays immediately began the preparation of his charge to the jury.

Juanita Ayala, wife of the defendant, was the first witness in the afternoon. She corroborated other testimony about accompanying her husband to Corsicana the morning previous to the tragedy and of their movements until they returned about noon.

She testified her husband had never been convicted of a felony in this or any other state.

The defendant and his wife both testified through Manuel Santos interpreter.

Ayala and his wife exchanged a

Community Chest Workers Continue Drive For Funds

Community Chest workers continued Thursday to call on prospective large donors to the 1947-48 drive as the advanced gift part of the campaign, went into its third day.

No report was issued at campaign headquarters Thursday. In the initial report $8,813.25 was reported pledged, with $3,240 of this being the annual contribution of the Navarro Community Foundation.

The advanced gift workers were contacting those who made contributions of $10 or more last year.

The general solicitation drive will get under way next week.

Marshall Returns To Washington For Leading Role In Whipping European Recovery Program Into Final Shape

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Secretary Marshall returns to his post today to take a leading role in shaping final recommendations to congress for a four year European recovery program that may cost up to $20,000,000,000.

The program he and other top administration officials are due to turn out within the next week is expected to be laid before congressional committees November 10 with the argument that it offers a "reasonable" chance of (1) saving Europe from economic disaster and (2) preventing a vast westward extension of Russian Communism.

Marshall returned late yesterday from New York where he has been personally directing the American diplomatic offensive in the United Nations assembly.

Ministers Meeting Set. He is to remain here until mid-November when he will leave for London and the Big Four foreign ministers conference on a German peace treaty.

Diplomatic and economic officials say that while almost no final decisions have been made, the broad outlines of the "Marshall plan" already are well laid down. In general they cover these main points to be laid before congress when the special session opens in November.

1. The United States would make available to Europe next year a combination of relief and recovery supplies totaling about $6,000,000,000. Relief supplies such as food would be given free. Recovery supplies such as factory machinery would be financed with loans.

2. Beyond the first year and possibly the second it will be impossible to forecast accurately the amount of help Europe will need because of changing conditions. Congress thus would be asked each year for only the next year's funds.

3. As proposed by the European nations themselves, the sums from the United States would decrease each year as recovery progress was made. Both American and European officials would try to make certain of successful recovery at the end of four years.

4. In addition to American government financing the plans call for some reconstruction loans from the world bank. There is also considerable hope here that other countries, such as Canada and Argentina, might help with their own financing.

5. From the American side, the program would be administered by a new government agency.

Whatever the form, the greatest task of the European Reconstruction administration probably would be to keep scarce supplies, such as food and various types of machinery, moving to Europe as needed.

Government Wins Two Close Tests In British House

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Britain's Labor government averted defeat by less than 30 votes on two occasions in the House of Commons today—the narrowest margins it has had since the party came to power in August 1945.

By a count of 184 to 160, the labor majority approved a hotly argued motion to end debate on a controversial government proposal to abolish the slim basic gasoline ration now allotted to British motorists. The conservative opposition greeted the vote with shouts of "sag" and "resign, resign."

A few moments later the house defeated, 187 to 160, an opposition motion to annul the government order wiping out the basic gasoline ration.

Attendance Low. The closeness of the votes was due partly to Labor abstentions and to the hour—the ballot came in the hours of the morning after a night sitting—which reduced the attendance generally. The labor party has 395 seats and the Conservatives 190.

Protest Made By U. S., Britain On Red Oil Seizure

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(P)—The United States and Britain have protested to Russia directly against Soviet seizure of the rich Lobau oil fields and installations in Austria.

A British foreign office spokesman confirming today reports that the two countries had sent separate notes of protest to Moscow, said they followed two full oral protests to Russian authorities in Vienna.

The oil fields—perhaps the largest in Austria and jointly owned by British and American capital through Austrian subsidiary companies—were taken over by the Russians without warning as reparations six weeks ago.

Robinson's resignation becomes effective October 31. He has been county agent here since March 16, 1937.

Government Gets Slim Confidence Vote In France

PARIS, Oct. 30.—(P)—Premier Paul Ramadier's coalition government won a vote of confidence from the French National assembly tonight in Ramadier's move to steer the nation between the extremes of Communism and De Gaulles.

The margin of victory was narrow. Official tallies counting the ballots said they believed the veteran Socialist leader won by 24 votes.

The balloting wound up two days of debate.

Both Groups Ousted. Ramadier had been under fire from both Communists and followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle. Both groups have been removed from his cabinet.

He told the assembly before the vote that France must choose between being a nation of "Frenchmen" or becoming "an American or Russian camp."

It was summing up after a lengthy debate on a vote of confidence he had asked, in view of De Gaulle's return.

Crockett Man To Be County Agent

W. H. Walker, Crockett, has been named county agent of Navarro county to succeed H. C. Robinson who resigned to accept an agricultural post with the U. S. army in Seoul, Korea.

County Judge L. L. Powell announced the Walker's appointment was disclosed to the commissioners court at a private conference Tuesday.

Assistant Navarro County Agent Frank Gracey said Walker probably would take over Robinson's office in the courthouse on or prior to November 15. Walker now is agricultural agent of Houston county.

Robinson's resignation becomes effective October 31. He has been county agent here since March 16, 1937.

CIO Union Board Ousts Officer For Refusing Red Oath

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—CIO-Unity Workers executive board today removed an officer for failing to sign a non-Communist affidavit under provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

Other officers of the union then proceeded to submit the required oath to make the union eligible to carry labor disputes to the National Labor Relations board.

The official ousted from membership on the executive board is James L. Daugherty, California regional director. Members of the 12-man board are classed as officers by the union constitution.

"The disciplinary action is probably the first of its kind by a CIO union."

New Law Involved. Under the Taft-Hartley act officers of a union must swear they are not communists before they can be elected.

Garbage Fee Paid By Person Paying Water Bill—OPA

Landlords who sought information from the Area Rent Control office as to passing the city's garbage collection charge on to the tenant were informed by C. J. Lockhart, director, Thursday that it couldn't be done.

Lockhart said a number of landlords with multiple dwellings and who furnish the utilities had inquired if the rent could be raised the equivalent of the 75-cent monthly charge to take care of the increase.

Lockhart posed the question to the regional office, asking: "Please give us an interpretation as to whether or not...the landlord would have the right to do so."

FORMER F.B.I. AGENT SAYS SCIENTIST DID NOT REVEAL SECRETS

UN-AMERICAN HEARINGS CONCLUDED AS 2 MORE WITNESSES ARE CITED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—A former FBI agent told the house un-American activities subcommittee today that Soviet agents unsuccessfully sought to obtain vital information from Robert Oppenheimer, who worked on the atom bomb.

The witness, Louis J. Russell, told the committee that the approach to Dr. Oppenheimer was made while the noted scientist was working in the radiation laboratory of the University of California at Berkeley, Calif.

Russell, now an investigator for the committee, said Oppenheimer called the attempt "reasonable" and would have nothing to do with it.

Weapon Not Identified. Russell said the approach to Dr. Oppenheimer was made by George Eltenton, identified by Russell as an employee of the Shell Development Company of Emeryville, California.

Eltenton, he said, approached Haakon Chevalier, a professor at the university, and asked him to find out what was being done at the laboratory on "a highly destructive weapon." The weapon never was identified, but it was assumed to have been the atom bomb because of Oppenheimer's connection.

Eltenton, Russell said, told Chevalier that Russia as an ally of the United States at the time—1942—was entitled to any technical data.

Scientist "Approached." Russell said Chevalier "approached" Oppenheimer and told the scientist Eltenton wanted information and "could relay the information to the Soviet government."

"What did Oppenheimer say?"

Final Court Test May Be Made Of Contempt Charges

By MAX HALL. WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—This week a group of Hollywood writers have been charged with contempt of congress because they wouldn't give "yes-or-no" answers to the question "Are you a Communist?"

That means a court trial is possible. Ultimately the case may go to the supreme court.

Already, in the welling and pounding of one of the noisiest committee hearings ever held on Capitol Hill, both sides are preparing for this court trial.

Questions Show Trend. You can see it in the asking of the questions by the committee attorney, Robert E. Stripling, and in the way the witnesses reply.

What is contempt of congress? It's a violation of a law which says:

"Whenever a person has been summoned as a witness before a congressional committee ignores the summons or 'refuses to answer any question pertinent to the question under inquiry' he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

He can be fined $1,000 and jailed for one year.

Task Force Takes Off From Texas for Florida 'Invasion'

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 30.—(P)—The U. S. S. Taconic, flagship of Rear Admiral Ralph O. Davis, led eight other ships out of Galveston harbor today, Florida bound in Exercise Seminole against an imaginary enemy there.

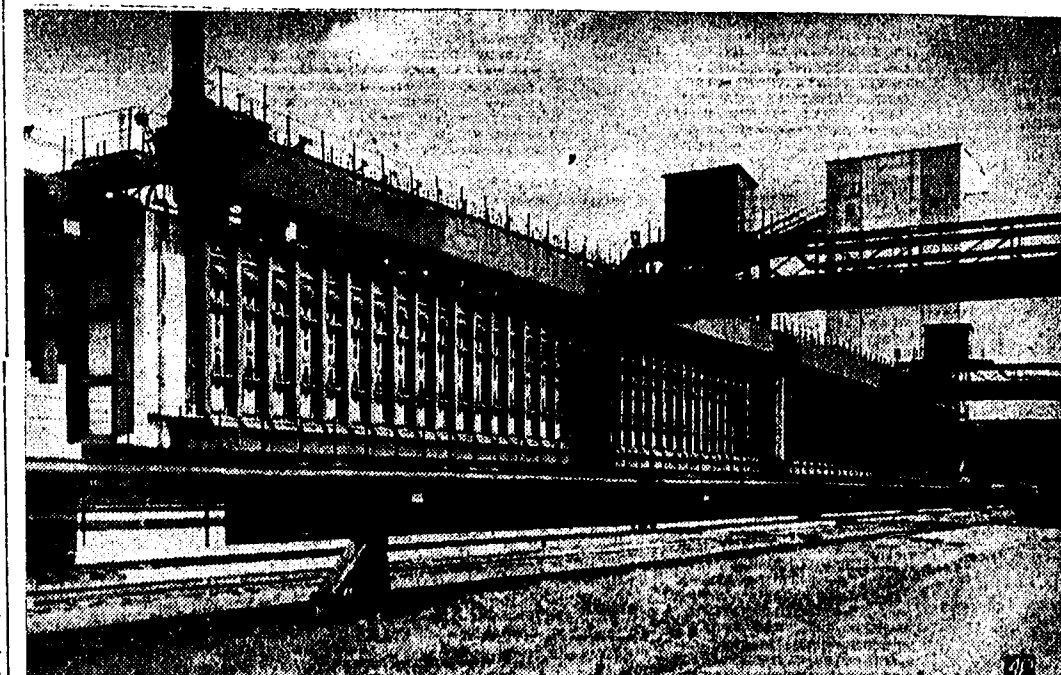

Fog cleared over Galveston harbor an hour before the flagship of the commander of amphibious forces, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, moved past the East and West jets at 9 a. m. The eight vessels that followed comprise the first unit of task force Choctaw.

More Move Tomorrow. A second unit of 20 vessels, headed by the flagship U. S. S. Mount Olympia, will leave Galveston at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

On D-Day, Sunday, Nov. 2, the first unit will put ashore 250 Seabees on a Florida beach and on the following day an imaginary infantry division will be disembarked.

The 20-ships tomorrow will carry 3,000 troops of the Second Army.

New Texas Steel Plant At Daingerfield Begins Operation

DAINGERFIELD, Tex., Oct. 30.—(P)—Another of East Texas' vast natural resources—iron ore fields scattered over 16 counties—was tapped today by being the section another big industry.

While hundreds watched, smoke billowed and conveyors moved to stir into action a sprawling plant near this Morris county center for the processing of the ore into pig iron that eventually will find its way into automobiles and innumerable other articles made of steel.

Mrs. John W. Carpenter, of Dallas, wife of the chairman of the board christened a furnace "The Flossie Bell" in carrying out a tradition in the industry.

Speakers were W. A. Hauck, representing WAA Administrator Maj. Gen. Robert M. Littlejohn; Rep. Wright Patman, Mr. Carpenter and Henry M. Bell, Tyler banker and a leader of the company.

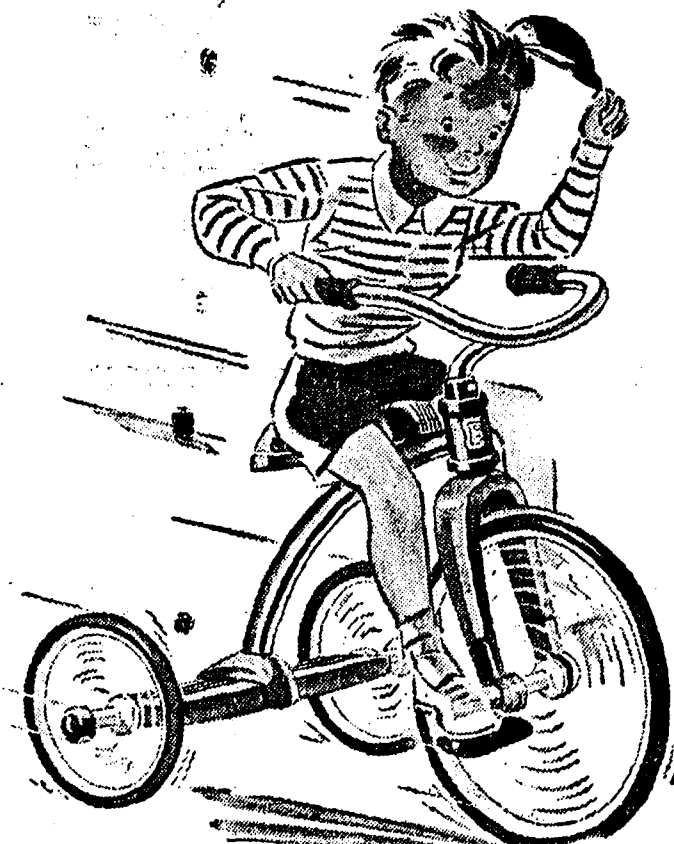

Federal, state and civic leaders from many Texas towns participated in the ceremony.

It Happened 25 Years Ago Today

(From the Files of the Corsicana Daily Sun)

Corsicana was planning a gigantic parade in celebration of Armistice Day, which, it was said, had never been properly celebrated here since the end of the war. The city officials, several bands, the American Legion, the National Guard unit, and other organizations were to take part in it. The Salvation Army, still $1,300 short in its local drive for funds, decided to extend the drive here for another week.
 T. J. York, proprietor of the York Music Store, was celebrating his 31st year in the music business in Corsicana.
 Feeling in the Mayfield injunction case was still running high. Judge Hawkins Scarborough received in the mail a miniature statue of a white-robed and hooded Ku Klux Klansman. It was thought that the statuette came from one of the witnesses in the recent case here.

Animal crackers:

Occasionally a little story like this comes along to prove that the dog-is-man's-best-friend belief isn't just a bit of wishful thinking.

A small black dog of rather dubious ancestry named Pal is credited with saving the life of Mrs. C. E. Anderson of Waco. She was walking along one morning when she saw a rattlesnake about to strike.

She says she was "glued to the ground" and couldn't move. Then without hesitation Pal darted between that rattler and me," she said. "It raced right in there and took the poison intended for me. That saved my life."

She said the pup was bitten twice. The snake grabbed Pal by the jaw and held on. It was shaken off, and struck again. The tenacious dog shook free, and Mrs. Anderson grabbed a hoe and kill ed it.

The dog was taken to a veterinarian and treated.

The Garbo of the bird world is a charming plover belonging to the Ed Sartain family of Amarillo. His only outings are romps with young Doc and Shorty Sartain, sons of the family. A favorite trick is to light on the shoulder of one of the boys and go to a ball game or for a spin on a bike. The pigeon's name is Tweeter, and when he's not with the boys, he's strictly a recluse, refusing to leave home.

Bill Fuqua of Dallas is proud owner of what he calls a vest pocket bird dog. The animal's name is China, and weighs only 27 pounds.

He says sometimes China is smarter than he is. He tells of one trip when he whipped the dog twice for ranging over a bar-ber-looking peanut patch.

He missed her later, found her right in the middle of the same field, patiently pointing to a fine covey of quail.

At home she catches a ball, barks when told to talk, retrieves anything she can carry, and brings Fuqua his bedroom slippers at night, his street shoes and paper in the morning.

She's a one-man dog, too. Once when a man raised his voice to the Fuqua, China flew between the two and growled angrily.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

District Supervisors: Navarro Hill, Bob Conservation District; Morris Crawford, Chairman; W. C. Water, Vice-Chairman; Thad Jones, Secretary; E. Crookmore and W. Lewis David, members.

Allen Edens of Angus and E. H. Vest of the Cunningham farm west of Emhouse have both had good results seeding Dallas grass mixed with barnyard fertilizer. Both men are co-operators with the Navarro Hill Soil Conservation District.

They had land adapted to the growing of this grass and agreed at the time of planting the farm they would like to try this method of seeding.

Seed mixed with barnyard fertilizer and planted last fall produced excellent grazing for cattle throughout the summer and fall of this year. Both Edens and Vest believe the best results will be obtained by planting in the fall, using barnyard fertilizer and planting on lowland, where moisture is usually plentiful.

Cover crops to improve the soil condition prior to developing permanent pastures has become one of the most worthwhile practices among conservation farmers of the Navarro-Hill district.

John Brawley reports 16 acres of vetch seeded on land to be developed to pasture on the Allyn Lang farm two miles south of Barry. Others who have added phosphate and planted vetch on pasture land are: Marvin Wallace, 38 acres on his farm at Hester; 25 acres on the E. W. Robinson farm two miles south of Hester; 10 acres on the E. E. Payne farm, two miles southeast of Hester, and 20 acres on the farm owned by the Montfort Brothers, two miles southwest of Chaffield.

Julius Perry of the South Dearmon Ridge conservation group, completed construction on one mile of terrace last week. The terraces were the large ridge type and were constructed with a Whirlwind terracing machine.

E. Brown of the J. C. Rhodes farm, two miles east of Emhouse reports two miles of large ridge type terraces recently completed. The terraces were made 60 feet wide in order that they might be more easily cultivated with tractor equipment.

Landowners and operators of the middle portion of the West Briar Creek sub-watershed met at Ely-Bu school Wednesday night to discuss the proposed conservation and flood control program for the watershed. Shelby Hicks, leader of the group, made arrangements for the meeting. Applications for assistance in conservation and flood control planning were received from Tina Alderman, Elmer Freeman, Shelby Hicks, Mike Szennay, J. M. Elrod, Jim Sutton, P. A. Reed, John Butler, Guy Love, J. T. Drain, G. A. Biddy, J. L. Taylor and D. Hale.

Sam's a Matrimony Expert

Sam Abernathy never intended to be a matrimony expert, but he hit the nail on the head the other day when he said:

"What marriage really needs is more open minds and a lot fewer open mouths."

Sam may not think much of his missus' choice of hats or her habit of serving watercress and cream cheese sala. But he keeps his mouth shut (I mean, he just uses it to eat the sala). And the missus never criticizes Sam's affection for that worn-out chair before the fire, and his mellow glass of beer and pipe at the end of a long day.

From where I sit, that prescription would apply to most human relationships. Criticism rarely rouses anything but resentment. But an open mind—whether it's applied to a woman's choice of hats, or a husband's preference for a pipe and a moderate glass of beer or two—leads to the conclusion that there's right on both sides.

Senate Committee Staff Is Studying Tidelands Issues

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The staff of the senate judiciary committee is studying all angles of the problem of ownership and development of minerals in tidelands in preparation for possible legislative action.

A measure, introduced last session by Senators Moore (R-Okla.), McCarran (D-Nev.) and Knowland (R-Calif.), calls for the federal government to renounce and disclaim right and title to the tidelands. It would provide for quietclaim of title to such lands.

In view of the recent Supreme Court decision, holding that the federal government has a paramount interest in the tidelands off the West coast, some of the committee staff members believe that the legislation may have to be amended or an entirely new measure introduced.

This revised legislation, one member suggested, should provide for transfer of title to the state in view of the Supreme Court's ruling.

Judge Finds Millions To Blame For The War

By TOM REEDY

AP Newsfeature.

NUERNBERG—A year's judicial experience at the Nuernberg trials has convinced Judge F. Donald Phillips of North Carolina that Hitler welded together a conspiracy of "millions" who share the guilt of the Third Reich.

This has been the most "shocking" experience to Phillips who now is winding up consideration of the case against Oswald Pohl and other executives of the SS charged with high war crimes. He is returning to Rockingham, N. C., to resume his Asheville circuit court duties about Nov. 1.

Prior to this case Judge Phillips sat on the trial of Field Marshal Erhard Milch sentenced to life imprisonment as creator of the modern Luftwaffe and user of slave labor.

Speaking of Nazidom as he learned of it from the bench, Judge Phillips said:

"It was the largest overall conspiracy the world ever has known. I was shocked to see it unfold. It started with a few men after the first World War and finally when it broke out there were millions in the conspiracy."

In his opinion it is incorrect to consider only a "handful of leaders" responsible for the war-making crime.

"The denazification law should make it certain that the millions expiate their guilt," he declares.

"At least it will go a long way toward deterring the generations of the future from engaging in the same kind of international monstrosities."

stride and abundant supply of anecdotes.

Of his colleagues he said he was "very much impressed with the high type judges who sat on these trials and the spirit of patriotism they exhibited in their work."

"Some of these men," he observes, "are in their seventies and had to have a lot of patriotism to come so far from home to do a job like this."

The German attorneys impressed him too as "very thorough, honest and conscientious." They were well grounded in European law before Hitler came along, he said.

Pope Denounces Totalitarianism In Postwar World

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII today denounced postwar totalitarianism which he said sought to submit church to state, although he declared it an error to believe the two could be entirely separate.

The Pontiff addressed members of the Sacred Roman Rota, one of the three highest ecclesiastical courts, calling upon him at the Castel Gandolfo summer residence at the start of their work year.

"The same arguments which the tyrannical governments of yesterday adduced against the church in its fight for the defense of Divine rights and of just dignity and human liberty today are used by new rulers to combat her persevering action in behalf of truth and justice," he said.

Pee-Wee the Picker Picks a Peck PDQ

WENATCHEE, Wash.—(AP)—Paul (Pee-Wee) Coble is considered quite a man with an apple hereabouts, since he picked 461 boxes of the Delicious variety in a 16-hour day and put in a claim for the world record.

His employer, A. L. Sylvestre, touched for the total and said the boxes were well filled and the fruit carefully handled.

Figuring 125 apples to the box, Coble was handling the fruit at a rate of some 5,760 apples an hour, or 96 a minute. This doesn't allow for the time he consumed in moving, climbing and descending his 12-foot ladder.

Coble is a professional picker who "follows the fruit" and says he's also the world champion orange picker.

The previous claimant to the apple picking crown was Henry Wooden who accounted for 425 boxes in nine and a half hours.

AWAKE AND SLEEP.
 I have been a millionaire.
 I've owned yachts as big as any
 Built for sailing anywhere.
 And they've cost me a penny.
 I've had medals on my breast;
 And though beautiful this is seeming,
 I've had everything that's best
 Many a night when I've been dreaming.
 Fame is but a part-time pride.
 Kings are kings the day through only.
 Sleep puts all the crowns aside.
 Dreams bring friendships to the lonely.
 Restless be the great man's night
 Troubled on his couch he pitches.
 Sleep and care has taken flight.
 Happy dreams are night-time

COUNTY AGENT H. C. ROBINSON RESIGNS TO TAKE KOREA POST
 H. C. Robinson, Navarro county agricultural agent for more than ten years, formally submitted his resignation at a special meeting of the commissioners court Tuesday afternoon.
 Robinson will become an advisor in the farm supply section of the U. S. Army's Military Government in Seoul, Korea.
 The county agent, who held that post since March 16, 1937, expressed his appreciation to the commissioners and County Judge L. L. Powell for the cooperation given him. "I enjoyed working here very much," he said.
 Robinson's resignation becomes effective October 31. He said he would leave for his new assignment sometime next month, probably between November 1 and November 15. His wife and 13-year-old son will not make the trip to Korea until Robinson reports to authorities abroad and establishes a residence, he said.
 The farm official's duties and responsibilities with the Army include:
 1. To evaluate and coordinate all activities of the farm supply section.
 2. Advise on fertilizer requirements of South Korea, and the distribution and allocation of fertilizers.
 3. Advise on insecticides, fungicides and allied materials.
 4. Advise on farm machinery and tools.
 Robinson's successor has not been announced.

OUR WORDY WORLD TALKS TOO MUCH; ACTS TOO LITTLE
 Bible Teaching About Loose and Unkind Speech—Our Little Tongues' Big Offending—Character the Ultimate Standard of Religion—Example of Jesus.
 By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS
 Little children were "playing church" and the young preacher's sermon was simply, "People, be good," which about summed up the whole case for religion. All doctrine is devotional. Every preacher in character and conduct. As James strongly points out in the present Lesson, the fruit of faith is works. The child's sermon, "People, be good," comprehends the message of the Bible. Without Christian character there is no functioning Christian religion.
 There is one, and only one, unanswerable argument for the validity of Christianity—the lives of Christians, whose character has been transformed by the power of Christ. Our soldiers and sailors returning from the Pacific islands tell thrilling tales of natives transformed from fierce cannibals to gentle ways of simple goodness. Many men of our forces owe their lives to the native Christians who succored them from a pagan foe. Wherever it is really tried, Christianity produces a new high type of character.
 As to the Tongue
 Shrewdly and truly, our author, Saint James, lays heavy stress upon the tongue as a temptation. In vivid figures, he pictures the tongue as a fire, setting aflame the whole body; as a ship's rudder, steering life's course; as a bridle, controlling a restless animal; as a forked instrument, from which comes blessing and cursing; as a mixed fountain, giving forth both good and evil water.
 It seems as if James were talking directly to our wordy world. Never before was so much language tossed about by reckless persons. The radio has added countless millions of words—much of it trash—to assault our ears. Books, magazines, newspapers pour forth an immeasurable stream. Legislators have brought contempt upon themselves by their pointless verbosity.
 Highbrows have added a new and weird vocabulary to current literature, which, fortunately, the average reader does not understand or employ. In a sentence, our world uses too many words which are unsupported by action. We need to heed Carlyle's thundering admonition, "A little more silence, please."
 Advertising nowadays has run wild with conflicting and untrue claims which flatter and traduce one another. Somebody is lying.
 The growth of profanity is one of the distressful symptoms of our time. It abounds in books and magazines. Even girls of the "modern" type, foul their lips with the speech of bar-rooms and dives. Unheeded goes the ever-living commandment "Thou shalt not swear the Name of the Lord thy God in vain."
 The Mastered Tongue
 When we meet a stranger we instinctively judge him by his speech. Before he has spoken a dozen words we know whether or not he is a cultivated person. Ere he has proceeded far we have a pretty fair estimate of his character. "Thy speech betrayeth thee."
 A man may dress as a gentleman, and conform to accepted social usages, but when he opens his mouth his real status is revealed. James repeated and varied his stress upon the control of the tongue. Every hour of every day the Christian should set a watch upon this unruly member.
 Good words are good works. To speak truly and gently is every hour's task. For wrong words wreak more unhappiness in the world than all the weapons of warfare. Who can rebuke the homes that are in misery because of uncontrolled and unkind conversation?
 Winged Messengers
 Words wear wings of the morning, flying farther and faster than ever the person who uttered them intended. Some sentences live as a canker in the memory of those who hear them. Some have been wrecked by a few words uttered in haste and anger.
 On the other hand, kind words, courteous words, heartening words, sympathetic words have a long mission. Many a word in season becomes a permanent influence in a life. Great is the ministry of the preacher. Every preacher's principal power is in the words he speaks from his pulpit.
 The Peerless Preacher
 In this, as in all things else, Jesus is our perfect example. His three years of public ministry were spent largely in talking to folks, and in language understood by the common people. The gospel—"Good news"—is the truths He uttered. Sometimes His tongue was a flaming sword, with which He smote the deceivers and oppressors of the people. There was nothing of the jellyfish about Him. But mostly His words were gentle and upbuilding, as He taught the crowds about God and goodness. Out of the talks and ministrations, and character of Jesus emerged Christianity, a body of transformed people who are slowly changing the world.

CLUB NEWS
 Pickett H. D. Club.
 The Pickett Home Demonstration Club met on Oct. 27 in the home of Mrs. Ruth Norwood, with ten members and one visitor present.
 After a short business session in which committee reports were heard, Miss Eva Sue Merritt gave an interesting demonstration on the making of marshmallows.
 The next meeting of the club will be held on Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. Minnie Boone at 1 p. m., unless notice is given of change due to the Louis Bromfield lecture.
 Blooming Grove 4-H Girls.
 The Blooming Grove Girls 4-H Club met on October 17 at the school there, admitting ten new members to the club.
 The club song, motto, pledge and prayer were given, and members answered the roll call with "What I Like About the Country."
 A discussion of a Halloween party was held.
 Zion's Rest 4-H Girls.
 The Zion's Rest Girls 4-H Club met on Tuesday, Oct. 14, and enrolled a new member, Shirley Frampal.
 After a session of songs, the girls exhibited wastepaper baskets they had made. The clothing demonstrator, Darline Rich, and the garden demonstrator, Yvonne Greenup, selected committees to bring reports on clothing and gardening. Shirley Blue and Patricia Nichols were named on the clothing committee, and Mary Carolyn Pearson was named on the gardening committee.

Refrainments were served to 12 members. The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 14 at the home of Mrs. Sally Black Davidson.
 Mrs. J. V. Noble was in Merens Thursday of last week to address three of the women's clubs on "Art."

ADVERTISING UNCLE SAM

It is not generally considered good taste for a donor to present a gift with fanfare, bidding thus for recognition and gratitude from the recipient. But this very proceeding becomes good sense in the case of future food shipments to Europe.
 Columnist Drew Pearson points out the difference between the Russian way of presenting its food contributions and that of the United States. Last year, according to Pearson, several million tons of American food were unloaded unostentatiously at Le Havre, quietly distributed and accepted by Frenchmen as a matter of course. Neither the giver nor those benefited bothered to emphasize that the food had come from the United States. At the same time a cargo of grain arrived at Marseilles from the USSR. Bands played. There were street parades, a local holiday and public speeches praising the generous Soviets. The food from Russia was only enough for a little more than a week's consumption. That in Le Havre from America was many times this amount, supporting Frenchmen for months. Incidentally, the Soviet wheat, according to Pearson, was paid for in hard-to-get dollars, not francs.
 The inference is obvious, and worth thinking about. If, besides relieving destitution, American food contributions to Europe are intended to thwart the continent's swing into the Communist orbit, Europeans must be made aware in a vivid and unmistakable manner that they are being aided by the United States.
 This is no time to let the light of America hide under a bushel.

PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT

Russia and Uncle Sam have just come to a friendly settlement on the Soviet debt for Lend-Lease goods. The Russians have agreed to pay 90 cents on the dollar and interest at the rate of 2 3/8 per cent on the 233 million dollars worth of postwar Lend-Lease goods which has been sent them. One interest payment has already been made. Payments in principal will start in 1954. From now on they will pay cash for what they get.
 If the Russians had wished they could have stirred up another brawl instead of quietly making a settlement. This is encouraging to the great majority of Americans who want to settle peacefully all our points of disagreement.

LABOR LEGISLATION

It seems difficult to understand how the Taft-Hartley Act can be called a measure to enslave workers when it guarantees labor the right to organize, to bargain collectively, and to strike. Still, some labor leaders persist in calling it a slave act. The real reasons for their disapproval seem to be the provisions which protect union members from exploitation by the dictator-type of leader. The best and brightest leaders are trying to make it work.
 The picketing that met Robert A. Taft, one of the bill's framers, during his recent western tour, with barges of insulting banners and outspoken epithets, merely inspires most Americans with distaste for picketers. In many cases they carried placards proclaiming communistic affiliations. Communists who have infiltrated into union ranks are the Act's loudest critics. Judging it by its enemies, many people begin to conclude that it must have merit.

If a law is objectionable, the way to find it out is to enforce it fairly, to live by it and under it. Defects in its writing soon become apparent to all. If the law has value on the whole, objectionable parts can be rewritten or amended. If the whole law needs rewriting, that can be done, saving the good parts. If it proves unworkable, it can be repealed. These methods are in the American manner.
 Labor relations are complicated. The Wagner Act aimed to correct certain abuses, but proved to have unforeseen byproducts. The Taft-Hartley Act may surprise present enemies by having points of unforeseen usefulness. Be fair. Try it out.

It may take three or four more efforts to get a satisfactory labor law. Meantime, a little human fairness, friendliness and effort at co-operation between management and labor will do no harm.

CANDIDATES AND BONUS

Some states are voting on a soldier bonus this fall. By a remarkable coincidence all candidates polled have declared in favor of the bonus. Some day a candidate will come out against veterans' bonuses, and that would merit a streamer all across the front page. It would get another if this candidate were elected.
 Vets would enjoy bonuses more if they weren't keen enough to know just what they are—a sop for a vote. Most vets have self-respect. They would rather have a house they could pay a reasonable rent for than for a bonus which vanishes into thin air while the vet family floats around. Most vets, also will vote as they please regardless of campaign oratory.

VITAL BUT UNKNOWN

Joseph W. Ellms recently celebrated his 81st birthday and his 31st year as a high official of the Cleveland water department. He is now commissioner of sewage disposal.
 For years it was Ellms' job to see that the city got pure water. Though few ever heard of him, he was in many ways Cleveland's most important official.

Almost every community has some faithful, hard-working public servant like Ellms, who does not get into the papers but without whom the machinery of government could scarcely run.

COSTLIER CARS

Don't blame all high prices on increased wages. "Even if there is no increase in wages, engineering charges and costs of materials will bring higher prices for 1948 cars," says Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors. So if an already high price for a new car is jacked up a few notches, don't blame it all on the United Automobile Workers. Wilson doesn't.

Creek Bridge Plan Discussion Heard By Commissioners

The long-sought bridge across Chambers Creek between Ennis and Emhouse is another step nearer construction as a result of renewed appeals to the Navarro County Commissioners Court Tuesday afternoon.
 Ennis Chamber of Commerce Manager Ivan E. Dycus told the Commissioners Court at a special session Tuesday that interested Ennis County citizens have contributed $800 toward construction of the bridge, linking the two communities.
 Construction Urged.
 Will Johnson, farmer of near Emhouse, urged its construction, pointing out the delays necessitated by going several miles out of the way to cross the creek.
 The bridge has been out about three years, Ollie Prince, cattle raiser, reported. He favors the bridge principally because of the aid it would provide in taking his cattle to Fort Worth.
 Half Cost Pledged.
 The delegation from Ennis' county provided one-half of the sum necessary to build a "dry weather" bridge a short distance from the present washed out site (a much wider area).
 The commissioners court did not raise any funds but Commissioner G. C. Kent of Precinct 1 promised what possible aid he could give. Indications were the money necessary for the bridge would be raised by contributions in both Navarro and Ennis counties, and some voluntary labor.

Richland Student Takes Baylor Test

Eugene O'Quinn of Richland, a pre-med student at Baylor University, was among the 110 students of the institution who took the attitude examination of the Association of American Medical Colleges on October 25th. The examination was administered to candidates for the 1948 Freshman class in colleges of medicine. The test, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., was completed at 5 p. m. The report of the test performance is held confidential by the Association and may be seen only by the college and the office of the Secretary of the Association.

No Chance Seen For Cooperation On Aid By Taft

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today he sees no chance for bipartisan cooperation in dealing with remedies for high prices and inflation during the coming special session of congress.

Taft, who is chairman of the Republican policy committee, told a news conference that he could not agree with a suggestion of Senator McGrath (D-Ill.) for eliminating politics at the special session.

"I have not agreed with any economic policy advanced yet by the Administration," Taft said.

union may use the facilities of the NLRB.

They also must file financial and other organizational data with the Labor Department. This was done for the Utility Workers today by Secretary-Treasurer William J. Pachler and General Counsel H. E. Cooper.

Pachler said the organization, established as a national union in the CIO April 6, 1946 has a provision in its constitution barring communists from membership. That was inserted at the inaugural meeting Pachler said.

He added that Daugherty denies that he is a member of the communist party but refused to sign the affidavit disavowing communism.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judge,

Football games bring out the most unusual fashions. It seems the kids are not just wearing their hearts on their sleeves; this year's coeds have an entirely new angle—they're wearing their hearts on their eyes.

Latest on the campus hit parade is the wearing of goggles upon the frames of which are inscribed the names of current heart interests. These hip-specs come in some processed plastic that takes to India ink or nail polish, and the kids do the painting.

Such talk as "slip me the skin" or "hey bob a robob" and "he's a smart affair" adorn other rims. Some gals just stick to their own names or the names of their sororities.

Sloppy sweaters are not entirely out on the campus. Kids who couldn't make up their minds whether the style was in sweaters which can be worn loose or by means of hidden laces in the back, they can be converted into form-fitting long-waisted sweaters.

Ham Bones: Twin kids Bruce and Jay Cohen at 13 are amateur radio addicts. They broadcast from a rigged-up station in their bedroom and can be heard several hundred feet from their apartment. The kids made quite a bit of their own equipment. The rest they buy out of their allowance which they pool or receive as presents on special occasions.

A broadcasting studio on a small scale, might be lots of fun for kids who are interested in breaking into radio or television. Even if they can broadcast only to the next room, they might learn something about radio technique and if they really are interested could perhaps persuade local radio personalities to give them suggestions and criticisms.

Out at Normandy H. S. the St. Louis Courier reports that the boys are urging and groaning at the "new look." Here are the reasons the Jacksons give:

They make girls look too tall and thin or too short and fat....

The girls look as if they're tied up in sacks....

The dresses make 'em look as if they're a hindrance to walking....

But even at Normandy it seems the girls haven't quite made up their minds and some are in the way-below-the-knee class and others are in the little-below-the-knee class—all of which puts them in the same boat as other studen throughout the country.

To commemorate their founding the Girl Scouts around the world will participate in "Seven Service Days." More than 30 foreign troops of Girl Scouts have come in to being since the end of World War II including two troops in Saudi Arabia, and 11 in Japan. This is the international program for the period: Sunday, attend church in uniform; Monday, Home-making Day; Tuesday, Citizenship Day; Wednesday, Health and Safety Day; Thursday, International Friendship Day; Friday, Arts and Crafts Day; Saturday, Out-of-Doors Day.

Gaulle's demand for dissolution of the legislature and new elections. Small Margin Expected.

Most political observers thought he would win by a small margin, with the support of his own socialists, the Radical Socialists and members of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP)—the parties from which he drew the members of his cabinet, piously streamlined to meet pressing economic and political issues facing the nation.

The margin by which Ramadier's followers hoped to achieve victory was narrowed last night when leaders of the Republican Rally (RGR)—which represents about 10 per cent of the assembly—urged its members to vote against him.

Ramadier opened his fight for the life of his government Tuesday in the assembly, assailing De Gaulle as a modern "Caesar" and wrangling with the Communists in a fist-shaking, screaming debate.

Identity Of High School Favorites Revealed Tuesday

Tradition was broken during an assembly program at Corsicana High School on Tuesday, and the identity of school favorites and students who will appear in "Who's Who" were revealed to the student body. According to an annual custom, the school favorites are elected by the student body, and recommendations of students for "Who's Who" are made by the student body and the faculty.

Principal R. A. Armistead introduced George Sullivan, editor of "The Corsicana", who, in turn, presented Norman Goldberg, chairman of the elections committee of the student body. Norman gave a list of the winners to J. Carroll McReynolds, business manager of "The Corsicana", who announced them as follows:

MOST ATTRACTIVE GIRL—Bobbie Holsey; BEST LOOKING BOY—Dick Robinson; SWEETEST GIRL—Jane Lovett; BEST LIKED BOY—Kelly Burkhardt; BEST ALL-ROUND GIRL—Billie Jean Tucker; BEST ALL-ROUND BOY—Bill Davis; MOST SCHOLARLY GIRL—Jeanne Gross; MOST SCHOLARLY BOY—George Sullivan.

Among the members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Eleventh Avenue Methodist Church, who attended a meeting of the organization at the Methodist Church in Kerens today were Mesdames John Remonte, district president, H. B. Traw, Horace Hayes, Joe Worsham, L. K. Carraway, Joe Eubank, Fred Wilson, W. B. McAlester, L. W. Lunford, J. Morris Bailey, T. J. Keathley, John Gamble and Gary Nutt.

The observance was designated as "A Day Apart," and a sacrificial lunch was served at the noon hour.

and "Who's Who" eligibles are held on separate days. The students are given ballots and asked to vote for five different students on basis of scholarship, dependability, leadership and loyalty. Those receiving the largest number of votes are turned over to the faculty for final choice of those eligible for "Who's Who." The school favorites are chosen by the student body in another election the next day.

Civil Service Exams
Civil Service examinations have been announced to fill engineer positions in the Naval Air Material Center in Philadelphia and other federal agencies in Pennsylvania and Delaware and to fill Safety Inspected positions in the Interstate Commerce Commission, located throughout the United States.

Full information's and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's local secretary, W. G. Galloway, located at the Corsicana postoffice.

MRS. WALTER FARMER

Miss Pegge O'Neal Becomes Bride Of Walter Farmer Saturday Evening In Ceremony At First Baptist Parsonage

Miss Pegge O'Neal, daughter of Mrs. Ora Richardson, became the bride of Walter Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Farmer on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the parsonage of First Baptist Church with Dr. J. I. Cartledge reading the single ring ceremony. The bride wore a beige gabardine suit with white lace blouse, black accessories and in orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Friday served as best man and matron of honor, respectively. Mrs. Friday was attired in a black gabardine suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Farmer will be at home at 817 West Park Avenue. The bride was graduated from Emhouse High School, attended San Angelo and Navarro Junior College, and has been employed at KAND. The bridegroom was graduated from Corsicana High School and attended the University of Texas. He served in the U. S. Army Air Corps for three years, nineteen months of which were spent overseas.

City Federation Of Kerens Holds Tea Thursday Afternoon
KERENS, Oct. 30.—(Sp.)—One of the highlights of the year for Kerens club women was the City Federation tea, which was given Thursday, Oct. 23, for members of the Music, Garden and Pioneer clubs.

The group assembled at the Presbyterian church for an art lecture and display. Mrs. Howell Brister, leader for the afternoon, welcomed the guests and presented Mrs. Jack Anderson, music chairman, who in turn introduced Miss Dianne Coates, vocalist, and Bev Henson, pianist. Dianne's song, "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," by Haydn, won her much praise, as did Bev's musical interpretation, although Bev was off in a flash to fill another engagement and did not hear the many compliments she received.

J. V. Noble, who was introduced by the leader, gave a most instructive and interesting lecture on "Trends in Art," which was followed by an art show featuring many of the paintings done by Mrs. Noble in California during the summer, and a large group of paintings by Lynette McClung and James Bruner, who are her pupils. The tea was held at the home of Mrs. G. M. Chapman. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Chapman, and the other hostesses who were Mrs. H. G. Barlow, Mrs. Alvin Immon, Mrs. Earl Seale, Mrs. Brook Smith and Mrs. Charles Reese. A silver spread filled with mushrooms, golden zinnias, begonia leaves and polka-dot foliage decorated the tea table which was covered with a lace cloth over green satin. Red roses, red and white zinnias and English ivy were used in the living room and reception hall.

Miss Lynette McClung poured tea and Misses Shirley Taylor, Mary Hoffer and Martha Clayton helped in the dining room. Invited guests for the occasion were Mrs. Randolph Jackson, Mrs. F. L. Seale of Corsicana, Mrs. J. D. Hibbitts of Rockdale, the members of the Kerens school faculty, and the guest speaker.

Mrs. J. F. Smith To Review Book
A feature of the regular luncheon of the Jaycees-ettes on Friday, November 7th, at 12 o'clock noon at Kinslow House will be a review of Russell Janney's "The Miracle of the Bell" by Mrs. J. Floyd Smith, according to announcement by Mrs. A. W. Bule, program chairman.

Mrs. Gene Tyner will be hostess for the next meeting of Mildred Home Demonstration Club on November 11 at 2 o'clock p. m.

Corsicana Tigers Ready For Battle On Waco Gridiron

Corsicana High School Bengals went through their final polishing up on plays and formations this afternoon at the Waco Gridiron in the "Battle of the Bengals" at Waco Friday night.

Heralded on every sport page in Texas as the outstanding game in interest this week in the far-flung University of Texas intercollegiate league, standing room only signs are expected to be flashed at historic Memorial Stadium in Waco by game time. This gridiron accommodates 18,000 but Waco authorities are fearful that there will be a dearth seats.

A special train will steam out of the Union Station here promptly at 5 p. m. Friday. School and rail officials have stated that the train leaves on schedule so that the local contingent will arrive in Waco sufficiently early to get good seats.

Bengals Are Ready
"We will be ready," was the manner in which Coach Boyd Payne discussed the situation following the Wednesday afternoon workouts.

There are some bruises and minor hurts, but everyone will be ready by Friday night, the mentor emphasized, and stated that the two weeks had been used to perfect offenses and defenses to send against the powerful and tough Waco Tigers.

The probable Corsicana starters will average only 161 pounds, considerably lighter than the Wacoans. Corsicana will rely on speed, deception and hard tackling to defeat the undefeated and untied record of the local contingent.

Probable Starters
Probable starters include Barrs and Beamon, ends; Blitner and Sharley, tackles; Cavender and Phillips, guards; Cummins, center; Davis, quarterback; Clark and Mash, halves; Burkhardt, fullback. Meanwhile, in Waco there is gloom, according to newspaper reports since Kincannon, sparkplug, is not expected to be able to perform, and the coaches were quoted as being dissatisfied with their charges performance in the final hard workout yesterday.

Bonfire Tonight
The traditional and customary bonfire and pep rally at the Waco tilt will be conducted at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Robert E. Lee campus. This rally will be sponsored by the student council with the band participating and with speeches by the speakers.

The final pep rally will be conducted Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the regular chapel program at the senior high school auditorium.

Several groups are chartering busses for the trek westward, while hundreds will motor to the McLennan county capital in addition to the contingent on the train.

Ticket Sales
Ticket sales at the Union Station this morning were reported at 250, while the customary last minute change in plans Friday are expected to swell that figure by several times, especially should inclement weather conditions be expected Friday morning.

Personnel of the First National Bank has chartered a bus for the Waco trip. Since Friday is the final day of the month and work

MISS BETTY NELL CRAIN

Betty Nell Crain One Of Nominees For Baylor Queen

WACO, Oct. 30.—(Sp.)—Miss Betty Nell Crain, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Crain, 1531 W. Fifth Avenue, has been chosen as a Homecoming queen nominee to represent the Delta Sigma Pi, international business fraternity, in the Homecoming activities on the Baylor University campus November 1.

She is one of nineteen nominees, representing classes and organizations, from which the Homecoming queen will be selected. The nominees will be presented in a parade Saturday morning, and the queen will be presented at half-time of the Baylor vs. TCU football game at the Municipal Stadium at Waco Saturday afternoon. Miss Crain is a Junior English major and a member of the Delta Alpha Pi sorority. She was a Baylor beauty the past two years. Homecoming queen nominee and May queen nominee last year.

NAVARRO COLLEGE'S FIRST HOMECOMING SET FOR SATURDAY

Navarro Junior College will have its first homecoming celebration Saturday, November 1, student officials have announced. The official celebration will open at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with a band program and pep rally in the school auditorium, and the campus and buildings will be open to the visitors the rest of the afternoon. Refreshments will be served.

Saturday night the Navarro grid team will meet Hillsboro Junior College on Tiger Field at 8 o'clock. At half-time the Navarro football team, as yet unnamed, will be crowned.

A dance will be held at the college following the game. Statements necessitate later hours than customary, the bus will leave the bank at 6 p. m., a spokesman said.

T-SGT. E. H. KEMP FUNERAL HELD AT MERTENS THURSDAY

Funeral services for T-Sgt. E. H. Kemp, 28, who was killed in a plane crash in China, August 31, 1945, were held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Mertens Methodist church. The rites were conducted by Rev. F. T. Fisher, assisted by Rev. Peyton Goodman of Eureka. Interment was in the Richmond cemetery at Mertens under the direction of the McCormick Funeral Service of Frost. The Hillsboro American Legion post participated in the rites.

Funeralbearers were David Thomas, Gregory Griffin, J. P. Edwards, Joe Bolt, Tekell, Don Tekell, Miller Goodman, Jr., Jack Vereen and Maurice Vereen, all cousins.

The body was received Wednesday by the funeral home after being returned to the States October 10. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp, Mertens; three sisters, a brother, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Tekell, Corsicana.

Died at Big Spring
George L. Cleere, former resident of Navarro county, died at Big Spring Wednesday night.

The body will be returned here for burial at Rice, but arrangements had not been completed early Thursday afternoon. Corley Funeral Home will direct.

Don't Look Now— But It Isn't A "Special Session"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Today's question—look out, now—Is: Did the president call congress into special session Nov. 17?

The answer is no. He called congress into session Nov. 17, all right, but it's not a special session.

That's the view of Lew Deschler, house parliamentarian, which makes it official.

What the session will be is a reconvening of the first session of the 80th congress, Deschler says. "When congress adjourned last July it did not adjourn sine die (without setting a date)," Deschler explained to a bewildered reporter.

"It adjourned until next Jan. 3, or at the call of the congressional leaders or, as is provided under the constitution, at the call of the president."

"So it will be a continuation of the first session of the 80th congress—not a special session. That's a minor point."

A check of President Truman's proclamation shows he didn't refer to it as a special or extraordinary session of congress. He merely said an extraordinary occasion made an early convening of congress necessary.

asked Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator.

Russell said the scientist told Chevalier he considered it "a treasonable act" and "certainly would have nothing to do with it."

As Russell finished this testimony, Chairman Thomas (R-NJ) announced that the "first phase of the committee's investigation of Communism in the motion picture industry" is ended and adjourned the hearing.

Ring Lardner, Jr., Cited

Russell was called to the witness chair after a forenoon session in which the committee met with refusals from writers Ring Lardner, Jr., and Lester Cole to give "yes or no" replies to questions whether they are or have been Communist party members.

They were cited for contempt as were eight earlier witnesses who likewise declined to answer the committee's "504 question."

Heard a disavowal of any Communist party membership or activity from Berthold Brecht, 48-year-old German-born poet and writer.

As in the eight previous cases, the committee presented testimony from its investigators of finding evidence that the men cited have been affiliated with the Communist party.

Adapted of "Forever Amber" Like the others cited, the witnesses took the stand that the committee has no right to ask questions about political beliefs.

Lardner, a script writer who adapted "Forever Amber" to the screen, was the first witness called as the committee went into the ninth day of its public hearings in its investigation of Communism in Hollywood.

The 32-year-old, thin Lardner wore a dark business suit, a blue shirt and a blue tie. He spoke with a nervous voice, prompting Chairman Thomas (R-NJ) to remark "you haven't learned your lines very well."

Closed-Door Session Held The resumption of the hearings was delayed by a closed-door session of the committee to consider the future course of its hearings. No announcement was made as to any decisions reached.

Cole, who followed Lardner, wrote such screen plays as "Blood on the Sun," "The Romance of Rosy Ridge" and others.

The 43-year-old writer was refused permission to read a statement which Thomas described as "villification."

Cole was followed by Berthold Brecht, a 48-year-old poet and writer, who said he was born in Germany and entered this country on a quota visa in 1941.

Speaking with a heavy German accent, Brecht quietly answered what the committee has begun calling its "504 questions."

"I was not a member, and not now a member, of any Communist party," he said.

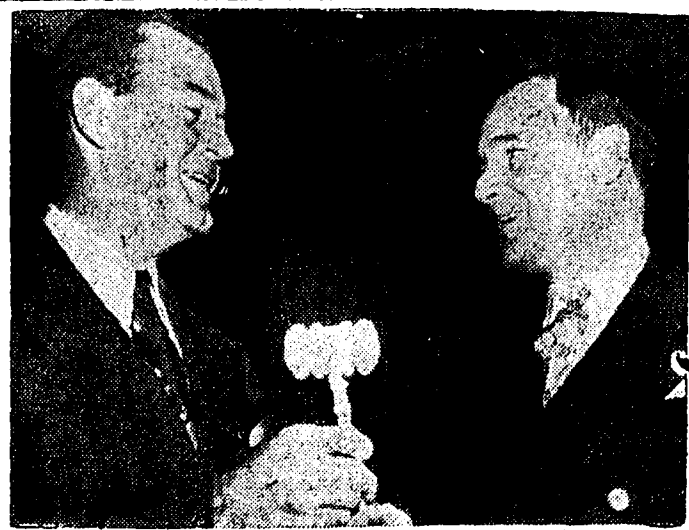

Some Stories Bought Brecht told the committee he has never written for the movies but studios have bought some of his stories. One, he said, was "The Hangman Also Dies."

While the hearing was proceeding, reporters were proceeding with a statement signed by the Progressive Citizens of America, with headquarters in New York. The statement accused the committee of "waging a deadly assault against the constitution."

Thomas had said earlier that before the day's hearings were concluded the committee would develop from a "mystery" witness "sensational evidence about atom bomb espionage."

A top committee official said this witness has evidence that certain movie stars were key figures in a plot to steal the secret of the bomb.

Lardner Draws Crowd The 400-seat hearing room was filled with spectators and nearly 200 waited outside for a chance to

Last Big Question Before Democrats After Meeting Wednesday Appears To Be Who Will Run With Truman In '48

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—

The Democratic party as represented by its national committee gave evidence today that it has settled just about everything for its 1948 convention except who is to run for vice president.

At a one-day meeting yesterday, the committee unanimously picked Philadelphia for next summer's nominating convocation and elected in 43 year old Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island a new National Chairman who favors non-partisan action on emergency legislation at the November 17 special session of congress.

Truman Praised Applauded

The 108-member group also applauded a statement by retiring Chairman Robert E. Hannegan praising President Truman and assuring millions of Americans are calling for him "to stay at the helm." Everyone present appeared to agree that Mr. Truman would be the nominee in his own right next year.

Vice-presidential talk was informal and scarce.

Names heard include those of Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal, a New Yorker; Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, of Washington State and Connecticut; Gov. C. Walker of Washington and Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., of Maryland.

get in when Lardner went on the stand.

Before the question as to Communist affiliation was put to him, he was asked whether he is a member of the Screen Writers Guild.

Shaking his head, Lardner replied: "If you can make me answer that, you could make somebody tell tomorrow whether they believe in spiritualism."

There were reports at the capitol that the mystery witnesses would be Louis J. Russell, a former FBI agent now on the committee staff.

Atom Bomb "Spying"

But committee Chairman Thomas and Stripling threw a heavy curtain of secrecy around the promised developments.

"We're going to pull the fuse off an atom bomb," was all Thomas would say to newsmen who nipped him in vain for information.

Except for a few odds and ends to be pulled together tomorrow, the "espionage" chapter was scheduled to be the last in the committee's investigation, now nearing the end of its second week.

Thomas said the committee plans to end the hearings tomorrow without calling Charlie Chaplin as a witness, although the film star is under subpoena.

He added that the committee may have another hearing later on witness movies to determine whether any of them contain Communist propaganda.

The "espionage" development was slated for this afternoon's session. The morning program was set aside for the expected continuation of the committee's contempt citation routine.

Several more witnesses represented by attorneys Robert W. Kenny and Bartley C. Crum were on the list to testify.

The eight in whom the committee already has recommended contempt action are writers John Howard Lawson, Dalton Trumbo, Alvah Bessie, Albert Maltz, Samuel Ornitz and Herbert Biberman, director Edward Dmytryk, and producer Adrian Scott.

These votes followed by only a few hours Winston Churchill's fourth unsuccessful effort to throw the Labor party out of office by adverse parliamentary ballot. The house defeated his attempt last night, 384 to 201. His previous attempts failed, 381 to 197 in 1947, 374 to 198 last April; and 251 to 148 last August.

Mr. Truman is represented as yet to make a choice.

Former Gov. John J. Dempsey of New Mexico, National Committeeman for his state, told a reporter he had heard much talk of Forrestal.

Those mentioning Douglas said he is more or less favored by what they called "Democratic Liberals." Westerners talked of Wallgreen, a former senator and close friend of Mr. Truman. One committee officer said the name of Lane, a Hagerstown, Md., publisher, had been mentioned favorably by some Westerners who said he had made an impression at governors' conferences.

Philadelphia Site

Philadelphia, chosen earlier by the Republican party for its 1948 convention beginning June 21, won the Democratic convention yesterday without opposition.

McGrath, authorized to name the date, said he thought it would be sometime after July 4.

The new chairman plainly evinced his feeling that the eve of the special session of congress is not the time to belabor the Republicans.

It was on his recommendation that a resolutions committee withdrew a proposed resolution condemning the record of the Republican-controlled congress.

HOUSING PROBE IS TOLD EASING RULES WOULD AID BUILDERS

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—William J. Farrington of the Houston real estate board told the joint congressional housing committee here today that with modifications of housing regulations builders could erect more suitable for the Texas coastal climate and that low cost homes could be built to sell for $4,500.

"I mean two-bedroom houses with all conveniences," Farrington said. "The existing regulations force builders to erect more expensive houses, out of reach of some income brackets."

Receiving the testimony was Rep. Hale Boggs, New Orleans Democrat, acting in the absence of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, and committee chairman, and Rep. Wright Patman of Texas.

CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE Samuel Ornitz and others for contempt—has stated flatly that they have "refused" to answer questions and therefore have violated the law.

Now, if the full committee, then the house of representatives, and finally a federal grand jury all agree with this view, the case will go to trial in the federal district court here.

If this happens, the jury must decide the issue of whether these men legally did "refuse" to answer. The witnesses haven't admitted they weren't refusing—they only wanted to answer in their own way.

Each witness would begin talking about his right under the constitution and the committee's right to ask such a question, and Chairman J. Parnell Thomas would begin banging his gavel and demanding a yes-or-no answer.

If a trial is held, the defendants—judging by their testimony this week—will argue that the question "Are you a Communist?" is unconstitutional, that the committee had no right to ask it. They have insisted that their civil rights are invaded by an inquiry into their political beliefs.

There have been several recent jury convictions for contempt of congress. None of them has yet reached the supreme court.

pair of shoes at a store, had parts fixed for a cultivator and started home from Corsicana about 11 a. m., stopping in Emhouse to get a stove.

Ayala said he was 47 years old—was married and the father of 12 children. He has farmed and cut wood since grown, and told of the various farms on which he had resided. He said he had known Vyers since before Christmas last year and that the only dealings he had ever had with the deceased was the purchasing of whiskey from him several times. Ayala said he knew Vyers carried a knife with him at all times.

His testimony about his move from the morning were substantially as that given by his wife, except he added that he purchased a quart of wine from an unknown bootlegger in Corsicana. He then told of getting the stove at an Emhouse store, stopping at the Tinkle filling station for oil and gas, the request and his acquiescence in giving Vyers and Tinkle drinks from his quart of wine.

Tells of Poker Game.

The defendant said the deceased asked to play poker and he agreed to play awhile before going to work, and that Vyers exhibited a $100 bill. Ayala said Vyers arrived at his (Ayala's) house about 10 minutes after he got home. Colquitt was at the Ayala home.

Ayala said he had played about 30 minutes when Colquitt joined them in the two-room house in the Ayala field, and a $10 bill had disappeared.

Ayala said he owed Vyers $3 and had put up the $10 as security, and after they were unable to find the bill on the blanket, he (Ayala) put up another $10 and Vyers gave him the change.

Ayala said there was where the second $10 was put up. He said there had been no argument but he asked for the $10 three times and then Vyers got mad and made a dive for something at his pocket and Ayala said that Vyers threatened to kill him and cursed him, calling him "a dirty Mexican son-of-a-bitch."

Ayala said he was afraid of Vyers. Vyers was nervous and got his gun and shot one time.

"I was not mad at him. I was scared," the defendant testified.

Ayala said he picked up the cards after the shooting, told his boys what happened and sent them to telephone the law. The state did not cross-examine either Ayala or his wife.

Newell Tinkle was recalled and testified that Vyers assaulted him (Tinkle) one time, kicking him in the face and breaking his nose.

Under cross-examination, Tinkle also said he had seen Vyers run when he was shot.

C. J. Johnson testified Vyers was overbearing, as did Mike Edwards.

Tells of Trouble.

R. L. Vandegriff, 260-pounder, was recalled and testified about trouble with the deceased at his home in late 1946.

Vandegriff said Vyers was drunk and almost fell from a stool. He asked him to leave since officers might arrest him and he returned an hour or an hour and one-half later, asked for a Coca-Cola, then left Vandegriff with the jaws of a knife on the head and ran.

Vandegriff said he caught Vyers, knocked him down and held him for a few minutes when the defendant and his wife returned from Corsicana.

A stove and groceries were in the back of Ayala's pickup, the witness related.

Ayala told him, he needed his sons in his own field that afternoon, and about that time Trapper appeared and said he had a check of cards and he desired to play. The witness said he advised the two men he had to go home, but might return later. All took a drink out of a wine bottle, Colquitt said.

The witness said he carried water to another farm and left his own house about five minutes to 1 o'clock, and went to Ayala's house where the two men were at a smaller house 200 or 300 yards up in the field where the shooting occurred.

He drove to the site, walked into the room and spoke and set down the two men were finishing a hand. Trapper won the hand, a small amount of silver being involved.

Colquitt said he pulled out his money to play into the game and Vyers suggested a pot be made. He quoted the defendant as asking for change of a $10 bill from Vyers and after the change was produced, neither could find the $10 on the blanket and later he quoted the defendant as saying:

"That's all right, I'll pay."

Ayala then secured another $10 bill from his billfold in his overalls, and handed it to Vyers.

The witness said as Vyers was dealing the wind blew his (Colquitt's) cards and he was watching to see that they were not exposed, when he heard Trapper exclaim:

"Hey!"

Both men had risen to a standing position, according to Colquitt, and Vyers was holding a gun in his hand.

Heard One Shot.

Colquitt maintained he did not hear Vyers say anything and could not understand some statement he heard the defendant mumble. He heard one shot and grabbed his cards and money in front of him, ran to his pickup and drove rapidly home where he told his wife what had happened. He said he saw Vyers "keeling over" after the shot and saw blood on his face and head.

The witness related he arrived home at 1:20 p. m., and after telling his wife of what had occurred, went to the field and got Buck Tinkle, who was hoeing for him, and took him after picking up his wife, left for town. He made a statement to Chas. T. Banister, county attorney.

Cross-Examination.

On cross-examination, Colquitt said that Vyers weighed 200 or 215 pounds and was about 5 feet 8 inches tall. He termed him a powerful and active man. He said this was the first game he had ever played in which Ayala participated, but had played with Vyers.

When questioned about Vyers' occupation, the witness said all he knew was that he "fooled with cards."

The game was "draw poker," according to Colquitt. He admitted that both Vyers and Ayala looked for the missing $10 bill. He denied any unpleasantness, cursing, etc., between the two men while he was present. He said he had known Vyers to carry a cattleman's large knife, but did not see it that afternoon. He said he made another statement before the grand jury. He denied knowing

WIFE OF PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND IS DEAD AT 83

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—(AP)—

Mrs. Thomas Jex Preston, Jr., who married President Grover Cleveland in a White House ceremony when she was 22, died here in her sleep yesterday at the home of a son at the age of 83.

Private funeral services and burial will be held tomorrow in Princeton, N. J., her home for many years.

She had come to Baltimore to help her son, Richard P. Cleveland, celebrate his fiftieth birthday.

The Clevelands had five children, four of whom survive.

In 1913, five years after Mr. Cleveland's death, Mrs. Cleveland married Preston, a retired professor of archeology. They settled on the outskirts of Princeton and had lived there since.

Her death leaves five living widows of former presidents. They are Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The defendant with officers following his arrest.

Objections Sustained.

State objections were sustained about the reputation of the defendant, Colquitt, from Tinkle on cross-examination.

Dave Maggard, Emhouse, said he saw Vyers going north toward home about 12:30 p. m. on the day of the trouble.

Morris H. Colquitt, who resides five miles northwest of Emhouse, the only eye-witness of the trouble except the defendant, testified about the shooting and incidents leading up to the trouble, his actions following the episode and his coming to Corsicana and reporting to officers.

Colquitt was also a tenant on the L. I. Griffin farm, and resides about two miles from the farm where the trouble occurred.

Went to House.

Colquitt related he went to Ayala's house a few minutes before noon to ask that the Ayala boys help him hoe cotton that afternoon. The defendant was not at home, but was expected. Colquitt said he remained in his pickup a few minutes when the defendant and his wife returned from Corsicana.

A stove and groceries were in the back of Ayala's pickup, the witness related.

Ayala told him, he needed his sons in his own field that afternoon, and about that time Trapper appeared and said he had a check of cards and he desired to play. The witness said he advised the two men he had to go home, but might return later. All took a drink out of a wine bottle, Colquitt said.

He said he made another statement before the grand jury. He denied knowing what was in his first statements since he was excited, and denied any abuse of the defendant or any cursing on the part of the deceased.

Mrs. M. H. Colquitt, wife of the previous witness, corroborated the testimony of her husband about the time he left home and his return, of his being excited, going after Buck Tinkle, and their starting to Corsicana.

Doctor Testifies.

Dr. Will Miller, county health officer, testified that Vyers was shot under the right eye with the bullet emerging behind the left ear, and in his opinion, causing his death.

Buck Tinkle, employed by Colquitt hoeing cotton, testified about the same events as previous witnesses, except that he was not sure about the time, since he was without a timepiece. He said he returned to the field 7 or 8 minutes before 1 p. m. and that Colquitt had left about 15 minutes earlier. He told of stopping at Johnny Patterson's place and then stopping at Emhouse where they got into Robert Colquitt's car for the remainder of the trip to Corsicana.

Officer on Stand.

Raymond Myrick, deputy sheriff, said he was called shortly after 1 p. m., and accompanied by R. T. Bailey, liquor control inspector, and R. E. Jones, deputy sheriff, went to the house of Ayala where he received a P-38 German pistol with seven shells in it. One had been discharged. He related that the officers then went to the house where Vyers' body was found.

He described how the body was lying on its back, hands to the side, and with the feet crossed, right over the left. He said the officers examined the body after Sheriff David Castles, Judge A. E. Foster and Assistant County Attorney Seton T. Holsey arrived.

R. T. Bailey said one penny was found in a shirt pocket, $100 and a $20 bill were found in a billfold in the back trouser pocket and a knife and snuff box were found in another trouser pocket. He described the deceased as a big man.

Identified Knife.

Sheriff David Castles identified a knife he produced as the one taken from the effects of Vyers. The blade was about two inches long. The state rested at 11:21 a. m.

Newell Tinkle was recalled by the defense and declined to commit himself as knowing the general reputation of the deceased.

He was asked if Vyers had assaulted him once, but objections by the state were sustained by Judge Maggard as defense question about deceased being overbearing, etc.

L. C. Boswell, Barry, said he had known the defendant 26 years and resided on his farm 14 years. He gave him a good reputation and also said that he had never been tried or convicted on a felony charge.

Good Reputation.

L. I. Griffin, Corsicana, owner of the farm on which Ayala resides, said he had known the defendant many years and he had a good reputation.

Brooks, Barry, said Ayala's reputation was good and denied having any trouble with the defendant, but had him leave his home on one occasion when he (Brooks) discovered the defendant was drinking. Ayala remained on the Brooks farm six years.

Roy Massengale, Barry; Raymond Worsham, Barry; R. W. Vannell, Barry, and others testified of the good reputation of the defendant. George Ward, Blooming Grove planter, said his reputation was good.

Character Witness.

Charles J. Johnson, Emhouse, said Ayala's reputation was good, and when the defense sought to elicit testimony relative to the reputation of Vyers, state's objections were sustained "for the time being" by Judge Maggard.

Claude Maggard, Emhouse, said he had known M. H. Colquitt four or five years, but denied knowing his reputation.

Attorney Tyson asked him if he (Maggard) had talked with him (Tyson) and Pevehouse in Emhouse Monday. The witness answered in the affirmative and said that Monday it was just conversation, but he was wearing now.

He admitted that he told the attorneys Colquitt's reputation was "bad as hell."

Jim Bob Collins, Emhouse, said he had known Colquitt several years, but had never had any dealings with him.

Mike Edwards, Route 5, dairy operator, and former merchant, said he knew the reputation of Vyers but state's objections were sustained.

R. L. Vandegriff, former operator of the Vogue Cafe here, said he didn't know Vyers but that he came into his place twice late in 1946. He was asked about an assault made on the witness, but the state's objections were sustained.

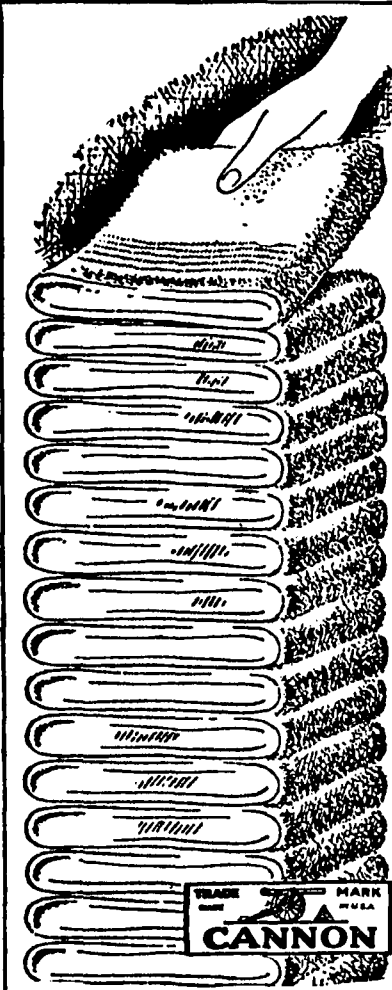

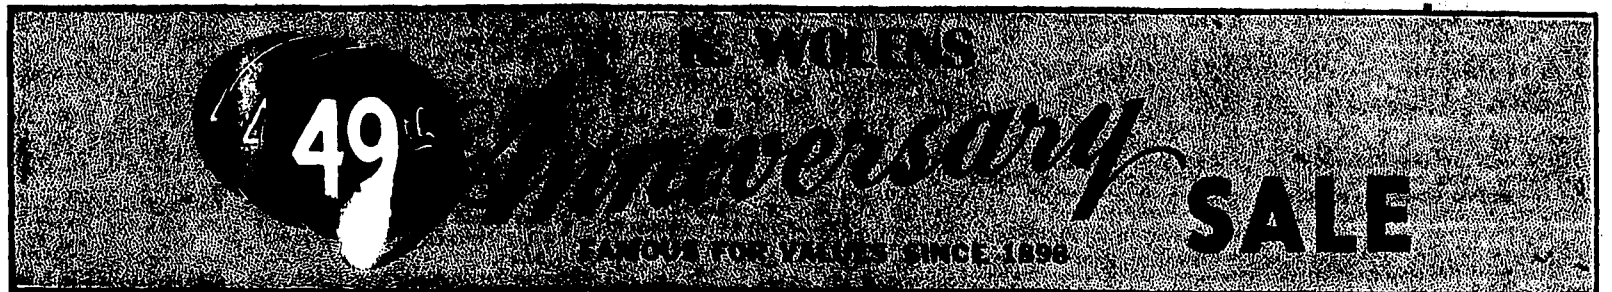

Tuesday Evening Session.

The jury was completed at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday after the state had exhausted its 15 challenges and the defense had exhausted 12. Judge Maggard had excused nine for cause. The remainder of the jury was finally excused.

The jury was prohibited from reading newspapers on the request of the defense attorneys, but permission was granted to alter picture shows. Judge Maggard outlined the regulations as to conduct and communications involving members of the jury.

The jury is composed of William Clay Turner, Deason, Jamison, Cori, Corsicana; H. M. Settle, Jr., Corsicana; A. L. Bain, Kerens; Marvin Speer, Frost; J. P. McKinney, Corsicana; E. B. Lancaster, Kerens; S. C. Ward, Purdon; T. K. Levy, Corsicana; D. F. Fields, Kerens; Clayton Johnson, Kerens, and J. C. Mahoney, Corsicana.

JOHN E. FICKLING
FUNERAL HELD AT
KERENS WEDNESDAY

KERENS, Oct. 30.—(Spl.)—Funeral services were held Wednesday at 3 p. m. at Stockton Funeral Home for John E. Fickling, aged 79, who died in Terrell Oct. 28, at 1:30 p. m. Dr. Elmer Page, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted the rites. A native of Montgomery, Ala., Mr. Fickling moved to Kerens in 1941 from Malakoff. He is survived by one brother, E. P. Fickling of Franklin; one sister, Mrs. William Johnson of San Antonio, and several nieces and nephews of Corsicana. Interment was in Kerens cemetery with Stockton Funeral Home directing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bob Black and daughter, Diane, have returned from a trip to the Rio Grande Valley, Matamoros, Mexico, and Port Arthur.

County Vocational School Adopt New Rules for Program

New and modified standards for agricultural training in the Navarro County Vocational School were formulated at a two-hour session of the school's instructors and advisory committee Wednesday night. Co-ordinator Ralph Evans announced Thursday. The group met at 7:30 p. m. in the county courtroom of the courthouse. Evans said the new standards adopted were stricter and would go into effect in the 1948 term. Details of the new program and entrance requirements will be announced later. Advisory committee members attending the meeting were: Roy Cloud, Kerens; Charles Fonder, Dawson; Ernest Hoosier, Frost; J. A. Harris, Barry; Frank Gracy, Assistant County Agent; and J. A. Winstead, Richland. Three members were absent.

STEEL PLANT
BORN DURING WAR

Born of wartime necessity, the mammoth plant is operated by the Lone Star Steel Co., a Texas corporation. It is one of the most modern of its kind in the world. The total area of ore land immediately available is 32,070 acres, most of it within a 12-mile radius of the plant. The ore is 40.75 percent iron. It is one of the principal ingredients of pig iron. The plant, units of which are scattered over several square miles, will consume the equivalent of two freight train loads of raw material a day. Its maximum daily output is 1,200 tons. 400 People Employed Four hundred people will be employed at the start. Operations call for top-surface mining. The ore is dished up by bulldozers and draglines, and dumped into trucks for a mile and half trip to the beneficiation plant, a $4,000,000 unit. Here the soil and ore are separated and the ore washed and crushed. The ore is next dumped into rail cars for a 3-1/2 mile trip to the blast furnaces. Coke and limestone are added to the ore and the furnace after which the molten metal is poured into castings, known to the industry as pigs. Oklahoma Coal Used The coke oven battery consists of two sections of 30 ovens each. Three coal mines in Oklahoma, also operated by Lone Star Steel, supply coal for the plant. Limestone comes from Chico, in Wise county. Pig iron will not be the only product. A by-product unit has been in operation since August. It recovers from the ore process benzol, xylol, toluol and other light oils, and ammonium sulfate, tar and coke oven gas. Another marketable item is tailings for road ballast and other similar uses. Auto-Makers Buy Iron A part of the plant's pig iron output already has been contracted for by two of the nation's largest automobile manufacturers, Kaiser-Frazer and Ford. A

Good, Inexpensive
Paint Remover Is Reported by Agent

Eva Sue Merrill, County Home Demonstration Agent, says that she has found a very good and inexpensive paint and varnish remover—and that housewives are using it in dressing up furniture. Slacked lime and baking soda are the only materials you need to mix the paint remover. Mrs. Merrill says mix one pound of the slacked lime with one cup of baking soda, and just enough water to make a thick paste. An old paint brush comes in handy as a means of applying the mixture to the finish that's to be removed. Let the remover stay on the surface for about 30 minutes, until it is almost dry. Then wipe it off with a brush, broom or rough cloth. To make sure that no alkali material is left on the furniture, wipe the surface again with a solution of warm water and vinegar. That'll make the surface clean and ready to repaint.

present two-thirds of the output is reserved for veterans housing.

Lone Star Steel is operating the plant under lease from the war assets administration, but a meeting of stockholders has been called to consider outright purchase of the properties for $7,500,000. The plant cost the government $37,000,000.

Diphtheria Inoculations. The Corsicana-Navarro Health Unit was expected to be crowded with children Friday to obtain inoculations against diphtheria and typhoid fever. The children are from the Navarro school. Recently a case of typhoid and a case of diphtheria were reported in this area.

Books Of Louis Bromfield—To Visit
Corsicana Next Month—Favored Over
Many Others By GI's Reading Public

By BOB CAMPBELL
Daily Sun Staff
The little books that juttured from the hip pockets of weary soldiers in the European Theater of Operations were many. The pocket editions were popular. There was "Forever Amber," to cite an example. It was popular. But it wasn't as popular as another one, almost—but not quite—as thick. This one was "The Farm." Why was it so popular? More eagerly than the ever-flaming Amber? Or "Strange Woman"? Or "Leave Her to Heaven"? Perhaps it was the nostalgic touch. Soldiers far away from home love the land. Farm boys, great many of them, "The Farm" took them back. Louis Bromfield, 51-year-old novelist, who will speak in Corsicana on two occasions Nov. 10, gave them something in "The Farm." But Bromfield is a versatile gentleman. He loves the land. He likes to write about the land. But he is a man of many angles. He once wrote a story of the illegitimate son of a leopard trainer—a lady—a woman—leopard trainer, that is. The Corsicana public library can well be expected increased demands during the next few days for some of Bromfield's works. His appearance is sponsored by the Second National Bank of Houston, and the Port Worth and Denver City Railway, a part of Burlington Lines. His lectures will be devoted for the most part to the land, and how to save it—will be in the afternoon and night, and open to the public. Louis Bromfield hates the war that follows the rains and sends the top soil slithering out to sea. Yet he became rich with a novel about rain. It was "The Rain Came," one of two books with the locale in India. The other is "Night in Bombay." "The Farm" is believed to be outstanding of his works. He likes it, too, and includes it among those he likes best. The others are "Mrs. Parkington," "The Strange Case of Miss Annie Sprague," and "The Rain Came." "The Farm," a semi-fictional account of a piece of land owned by the author's family since frontier times, blended nicely with a love of Thomas Jefferson and his theories, was published in 1933. His first great work, he rejected his first four novels himself, being a good critic was "The Green Bay Tree," an immediate success. It dealt with a woman—

Holiday Program
Interest Small

Disappointment was expressed at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday at apparent lack of interest on the part of merchants in drafting a Christmas Shopping Season. Herman Brown, who called a meeting of the merchants' activities committee as well as other merchants for Wednesday afternoon, said that only five attended. "It was very disappointing," Brown said. Another try will be made, the next meeting being set for 10 a. m. Tuesday. Brown said that plans for setting up downtown Yuletide decorations, as well as other matters pertaining to Christmas merchandising and annual holiday problems, will be discussed.

Filling Stations
Reported Robbed

County officers Thursday afternoon were seeking some hint of those responsible for the burglarizing of filling stations at Blooming Grove and Frost last night. A marble machine was robbed of an undetermined amount of cash in the Sinclair station at Blooming Grove and a radio and jack is missing from the Conoco station in Frost. Deputy Sheriff Raymond Myrick and R. E. Jones went to Blooming Grove Thursday morning and Jones was called to Frost early in the afternoon. that confront the seller will be discussed.

Collage Wrapping Course Announced

Tentative plans for a package-wrapping course at Navarro Junior College were announced Thursday by C. E. Cartrell, district education coordinator.

Plans call for a short intensive course in wrapping and tying packages in stores, and mailing for Christmas, it was announced.

The purpose of the course is to better prepare sales people for their jobs and to save local merchants the time and expense of training personnel in this everyday phase of merchandising, the coordinator said.

Persons interested in enrolling for the course were urged to contact the college.

ITALY GLADIATORS UPSET HUBBARD IN LAST WEEK'S CARD

By TALMADGE CANANT
(Sun Sports Staff)

The two powers in District 25-B, Kerens and State Home, rolled on unhindered last week to crush their foes in another round of district competition that saw the only unusual developments come from teams other than the two leaders.

The Kerens juggernaut rolled over helpless Mildred 52-0, while the State Home's potent aggregation pinned a 31-0 defeat on Frost.

The big news, however, was the thrilling 20-10 defeat of Hubbard by the Italy Gladiators, who chalked up their first district victory of the season by virtue of the win. A 95-yard run in the fourth period, and a point after, touched down gave Italy the edge. The win definitely removed Italy from the cellar, while it left Frost at rock bottom in the standings, with Kerens coming up next on the Polar Bear schedule.

Last week's meeting between Dawson and Blooming Grove was supposed to break their tie for second place in the standings, but the Bulldogs and the Lions fought the game in a stalemate, and the tie for the position. The tie should be broken this week, however, when Dawson meets State Home, and Blooming Grove takes on Hubbard.

Leaders on Road.

Both leaders will be away from home this week, Kerens going to Frost, and State Home to Dawson. Hubbard will go to Blooming Grove, while Italy comes into Navarro county to meet Mildred.

Kerens and State Home are by far the powers in the district. Kerens has piled up games against 12 of the 14 district teams, winning seven by its opponents, while State Home made 130 points while allowing 12 to be scored against it. Should both of the teams come indicated, then the two teams will settle the district championship for all practical purposes when they meet on November 7 on the Kerens Bobcat gridiron.

25-B District Standings.

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
Kerens	4	0	0	1.000
State Home	4	0	0	1.000
Dawson	2	1	1	.525
Mildred	1	2	1	.375
Hubbard	1	2	1	.375
Italy	1	3	0	.250
Frost	0	4	0	.000

Last Week's Results.

State Home 31, Frost 0, Kerens 52, Mildred 0, Italy 20, Hubbard 19, Dawson 6, Blooming Grove 6 (tie).

This Week's Schedule.

State Home at Dawson, Kerens at Frost, Hubbard at Blooming Grove, Italy at Mildred.

Navy Recruiting Rules To Change

The local navy recruiter announced today that after Oct. 31, 1947, there will be several changes in the broken service men re-enlisting in rate or in a lower rating of the same rating group. There will be several ratings opened to replace those that are dropped. There are still quite a few ratings open for men with broken service so that they may re-enlist with their same rate or with a rate lower. See your local navy recruiter in Room 3, Postoffice Building, Corsicana, for further information.

90th Division Plans Reunion November 7-9

The Ninetieth Division association will hold its annual reunion in Oklahoma City November 7, 8 and 9.

Made up of veterans who wore the famed red T-O insignia of the 90th infantry division in both World War, the association is one of the oldest and most active of the divisional war veterans' organizations.

Formed at the close of World War I and subsequently extended to include 90th men of World War II, the association has had an annual reunion every year since 1919. Headquarters for the city reunion will be at least two generals who commanded the half-lighting 90th in the European theater in World War II and the governors of two, perhaps three, states, according to O. G. McClurg, Harrah banker who currently is president of the association.

Gen. McLain Invited.

The two generals will be Maj. Gen. Herbert L. Earnest, now on the war department general staff in Washington, and Maj. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, now assigned to First Army headquarters, Governor's Island, N. Y.

Also invited is Lt. Gen. Raymond S. McLain, most widely known of the 90th's World War II commanders here, since he is an Oklahoma Cityan. Busy with war department general staff duties, Gen. McLain has not yet been able to say whether he will be able to be here for the reunion.

The governors will be Gov. Turner of Oklahoma and Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas. The governor of Arkansas also has been invited.

City Man In Charge.

Convention headquarters will be at the Skirvin hotel and the reunion will open with registration, entertainment features for the wives as well as the veterans, and the annual presidents' dinner, according to Howard B. Hopps, Oklahoma City attorney who is program chairman and a vice president of the association.

The registration committee is headed by Hayden Addington, 1504 NW 31, and the permanent headquarters, staff of the association from Arlington, Texas, will be temporarily moved to Oklahoma City for the reunion. This staff is headed by Clint C. Mason, Arlington, executive secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. Kell, 1325 NW 16, is head of the committee arranging entertainment for the wives of veterans.

Junior College To Compete In East Basketball Loop

The Navarro Junior College will compete in the Texas Junior College Athletic Conference's Eastern Zone basketball loop this winter, Coach Ken Clark announced early this week.

The Bulldogs played an independent schedule last year, not being included in the conference. The conference basketball campaign was mapped out last Sunday, when a meeting of all the coaches in the loop was held in Temple.

The other members of the Eastern Zone besides the Bulldogs, are Texarkana, LeTourneau Tech (Longview), Henderson County (Athens), Lon Morris (Jacksonville), Westminster (Tehuacana), Texas Military (Terrell), and Allen Academy (Bryan).

Clark said that an invitational tournament for the Junior College teams will be held this season at Texas A&M. College, and that plans were also being made for a national play-off tourney for the schools in the same class of competition.

Somewhat of a discussion of having a girls' basketball team at each school was held, but nothing definite was decided, Clark said.

The Navarro collegians had no part of their own on which to play last year, but plans were made to convert one of the hangars at the college plant into a gym and dressing rooms. Quite a bit of work remains to be done on the hangar, however, and it is not known whether or not it will be ready by the time the cage season opens.

TRAIN TO WACO FOR GRID GAME TO LEAVE AT 5 P. M. FRIDAY

The special train that will carry hundreds of Corsicans to Waco Friday night for the Battle of the Bengals will leave Corsicana at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, it was decided Tuesday morning at a meeting of Cotton Belt Railway and Corsicana High school officials.

The leaving time was changed from 4:30 to 5 because of complaints that the former time was too early.

As it now stands, the train will leave Corsicana at exactly 5 o'clock, and arrive at a siding between 8th and 11th streets in Waco at 6:45. The kickoff is scheduled for 8 o'clock. Passengers are advised to walk from the siding over to 12th street, and thence three blocks to the stadium.

Leaves Waco at 10:30.

On the return trip, the train will leave Waco at 10:30 and arrive here at 12:15.

Only 80 train tickets had been sold Tuesday morning, J. R. Culbertson, Cotton Belt official, said, but a big last-minute rush is expected. He strongly advised buying the tickets early, preferably before Friday, and emphasized that the train would leave promptly at 5 o'clock in order to make its schedule.

The special will open its doors on the siding here at the Cotton Belt station at 4:10 Friday afternoon to permit early loading by all those who wish to do so.

The Corsicana High school band will go on the train, school officials said Tuesday.

Sheriff David Castles and several deputies will also ride the train, it was announced Tuesday.

Local Schools Not Offered "Study" System Of TMA

The proposed "unit of study" system whereby the Texas Manufacturers Association, of which Sen. James E. Taylor of Kerens is publicity and public relations director, hopes to indoctrinate the school children of the state has not been proposed to the Corsicana school system, W. H. Norwood, superintendent, said Wednesday.

The association hopes through its magazine, "Texas Industry," and the "units of study" to teach "individual enterprise" to children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades as a means of combatting various "isms."

Norwood said the local school board "has not been approached" on the matter, and nothing was known of the plan advocated by the TMA.
